

Daily Mail and General Trust plc makes headline news with the Northgate HR pensions solution

Daily Mail and General Trust plc (DMGT), one of the largest and most successful media companies in the UK, has joined forces with Northgate HR to provide its pensions administration software.

DMGT's pensions director, Geoffrey Staines, who led the evaluation team, selected Northgate HR's PS Pensions because it had the flexibility to meet the very diverse requirements of the DMGT pension schemes. Commenting on the selection he said: "It was essential for us to choose a pension systems provider with a proven track record to support our long-standing commitment to providing a quality service to our members."

Northgate HR has over 25 years' experience in pensions administration software and provides a range of products and services. Keith Galliford, pensions director, Northgate HR said: "We are very much looking forward to working with DMGT and using our wealth of experience to help them achieve the very best solution to their requirements."
